

GIGANTIC MANHUNT FOR BANK ROBBERS IN 2 STATES

SUPERVISORS
PICK ROAD TO
BE IMPROVEDTo Spend Gas Tax Fund
On Highway In Center of County

The board of supervisors in their final session of the March meeting yesterday afternoon decided upon a 22-mile stretch of roadway, two miles south of the center of the county, for improvement under the state gasoline tax refund for several years in the construction of a gravel highway. The road and bridge committee presented two propositions to the board for their consideration and County Superintendent of Highways Fred W. Leake in explaining the method of procedure under the gas tax law, urged the specification of concrete paving instead of gravel. It was explained that many Illinois counties are voting bond issues for the construction of cement highways to be paid for out of the gas tax. This procedure was followed by Whiteside county, Superintendent Leake told the board members.

The first proposal submitted to the board outlined a route beginning at Speedway Corners, joining state highway route 70 in the east end of the county in Viola township, running west across the Inlet Swamp on the Bradford-Lee Center township line to Gray's crossing, south to the Frank Berry corner, east to Lee Center, thence northwest through Lee Center to connect with the end of section L of the 15-D road at the Grant Fuller farm and continuing on to connect with state highway route 2. This would provide a new route from the southeast end of the county direct to Dixon and would call for approximately 12 miles of construction.

The second proposal submitted to the board which was adopted by a vote of 13 to 11 was as follows:

Proposal Adopted.
Beginning at Montavon's Corner about one-half mile north of Compton from state highway route 70, and running west on state aid route No. 10 from the quarter section corner on the west line of Section 2, Brookly township, town 37 north, range 1 east of the 3rd P. M., westerly to the east limits of the City of Amboy, through sections 3, 4, 5 and 6, Brookly township, town 37 north, range 1 east of 3rd P. M., through the center of sections 24, 23, 22, 21, 20 and 19, Lee Center township, town 20 north, range 11, east of the 4th P. M., through section 24, across the southwest corner of section 13 and a portion of the south one-half of section 14, Amboy township, town 20 north, range 10 east of the 4th P. M. State aid route No. 14, from the west limits of the City of Amboy near the quarter section corner on the east side of section 16 west to the quarter section corner on the west side of section 14, Marion township, town 20 north, range 9 east of the 4th P. M., or connection with the proposed Walton Spur to the State Bond Issue Route No. 89, (through the center of sections 16, 17 and 18, Amboy township, town 20 north, range 10 east of the 4th P. M., through the center of sections 13 and 14 to the quarter section corner on the west of section 14, Marion township, town 20 north, range 9 east of the 4th P. M., or connection with the proposed Walton Spur to the State Bond Issue Route No. 89, through the center of sections 16, 17 and 18, to the quarter section corner on the west side of section 14, Marion township, town 20 north, range 9 east of the 4th P. M., through sections 13 and a portion of section 14 in town 20 north, range 8, east of the 4th P. M., to the east limits of the Village of Harmon.

Is About 22 Miles.
The road adopted in other words connects with state highway route 70, at a point one-half mile north of Compton and runs westerly along the line of the old Chicago road, one mile north of West Brooklyn, a short distance north of Shaws to the Green River park at the east limits of Amboy, beginning again at the Bloody Corners, north and west of Amboy and continuing westerly to the site of the proposed Walton Spur, jumping the one-mile stretch which is planned to be a part of the route 89 program, connecting Walton with the state highway, renewing at the route 89 paving and continuing westerly to the east limits of Harmon, a total distance of approximately 22 miles. A one-mile stretch from state highway route 2 at the north limits of Amboy to the Bloody Corners is not included. A portion of this mile is in the city of Amboy and the remainder is under the care of Amboy township. It is proposed to improve this mile to conform to the state requirements.

STATE NEARING
END OF HUCKINS
FRAUD HEARINGDefendant Downcast
As Former Partner
Tells of His Deals

Cedar Rapids, Iowa, March 15—(AP)—With the state's testimony nearly completed, trial of George Huckins on a charge of obtaining money under false pretenses was in recess today until Monday afternoon.

When court adjourned yesterday, Elwood Royster was recounting how he mortgaged his home and invested $2,150 with Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Huckins, who he said "had then like a father and mother to him and his wife."

Elmer Huckins told him, Royster testified, the same story of a wholesale defective cigar business that four other witnesses had related. The quietest investments with the Huckins aggregated nearly $75,000.

The elder Huckins informed him, Royster asserted, that he had exclusive rights in four states and that he could pay investors as high as 133 per cent.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Negus created a flurry in the packed courtroom with statements that George Huckins told them last December he expected to do time for operating the business but that when he was free again he would have "his sock full of money" and would take care of them.

Huckins, who looked more tired as the trial progressed, appeared downcast when Negus, his partner in the retail cigar store, denied that defendant seemed under the influence of narcotics when he spoke of the possibility of a prison term.

BOTH WETS, DRYS
CONFIDENT THEY PROVED POSITIONExpense Of Hearing In House Committee To Be Enormous

By PAUL R. MALLON
United Press Staff Correspondent

Washington, March 15—(UP)—Both wets and drys are sure they have proved their cases in the big prohibition trial before the preponderantly dry House Judiciary committee.

As the customary week end recess was in order today, both sides took stock of their accomplishments and the drys prepared to present what may be their final testimony Wednesday and Thursday.

Admittedly the trial has been the most extensive and elaborate discussion of the prohibition issue in the ten-year history of the dry law. Witnesses have been called from all sections of the country and all walks of life, from millionaires to reformed drunkards from Bowers missions.

The expense has been considerable, but how great will not be known until the hearings are concluded, if then. It has been borne for the wets by the Association Against the Prohibition Amendment and for the drys by the various affiliated dry organizations here and throughout the country. Some funds may be contributed by the Anti-Saloon League and the Methodist Board of Temperance, Prohibition and Public Morals although neither of these organizations have furnished any witnesses for the dry case yet.

The dry case has been handled by Mrs. Lena Yost, Republican National Committeewoman from Pennsylvania, although the dry leaders gather in conclave each night to plan their case for the following day.

Accomplishments.
A brief summary of the accomplishments of each side follows:

Wets.
Bringing into active leadership such outstanding industrialists as W. W. Atterbury, president, Pennsylvania Railroad; Pierre Dupont of General Motors, and Grayson M. P. Murphy of the National City Bank. Development of sentiment among their own ranks to work for straight repeal where heretofore most have been working for modification.

Production of eminent clergymen, physicians, economists, and leading citizens who described existing conditions as worse than bad.

Laying groundwork for what they plan to be an educational campaign regarding the Canadian and Swedish liquor systems.

Drys.
The matching of industrialists for industrialists with the wets, producing such eminent supporters Henry Ford, Thomas Edison, J. C. Penney and others.

Denial of the wet contention that there is more drinking among the young by producing polls of the Christian Endeavor, statements from college authorities.

OLD IRONSIDES IS LAUNCHED TODAY IN BOSTON NAVY YARDFamous Old Frigate Is Reconditioned: Ready
For New Masts

(United Press Staff Correspondent)
BY HENRY MINOTT

Boston, March 15—(UP)—Old Ironsides, originally launched more than 132 years ago, took to the sea again today.

Reconditioned as result of contributions amounting to $400,000 from America's school children, the famed frigate, about which poems have been penned and songs sung, was re-floated to continue a colorful career which began in the waning years of the 18th century.

Approximately enough, the scene of today's launching was less than a mile from the spot where the battle scarred craft, officially known as the U. S. S. Constitution but affectionately known as Old Ironsides, first went down the ways on October 21, 1797.

Only the simplest ceremonies marked the frigate's emergence from the drydock where it had rested nearly three years while shipwrights worked to restore it to a semblance of its erstwhile glory. Floodgates were opened, Old Ironsides was floated, and, flaunting flags and bunting from three temporary masts, moved majestically in tow to a neighboring pier. There it was tied up to await installation of permanent masts and rigging.

May Make Tour.
Eventually, if all goes well, the venerable warship will make a tour of American ports so that school children can board and inspect the craft whose conquests of the seas crowd many pages of United States history.

For years prior to the restoration work begun in 1928, Old Ironsides had rested in obscurity at the Boston Navy Yard, scene of today's undocking. Tenacious, except for the crowd of memories that peopled her deck.

It was just a century ago that the government decided that the pioneer warship was unseaworthy and should be broken up and sold for junk. Then a young man named Oliver Wendell Holmes sent to a newspaper a few lines of verse, which read in part:

"Oh better that her shattered hull
Should sink beneath the wave;
Her thunders shook the mighty deep
And there should be her grave;

"Nail to the mast her holy flag,
Set every threadbare sail,
And give her to the God of storms,
The lightning and the gale!"

Poem Was Effective.
Government machinery, inspired by this poem, was set at work to restore Old Ironsides and soon she was sailing the seas again, but now on mission of peace instead of in the belligerent mood that had won her an indelible place in history.

The Constitution, only 175 feet long, with 43½ foot beam and 1876 tons displacement, would be rated only a couple of notches above the rowboat class according to present naval standards. But in her prime she was the terror of the sea.

Though holding innumerable claims to lasting fame, Old Ironsides' best-known conquest took place on August 19, 1812 when she encountered the British frigate Guerriere off the Massachusetts coast, and defeated her after a terrific battle.

It was that fight which won for the Constitution the sobriquet "Old Ironsides."

Secures Injunction
Against Her Husband

Mrs. Laura E. Wright of this city, through her attorney, H. C. Warner, yesterday filed a suit for divorce and obtained an injunction in the Circuit Court against her husband, Harry H. Wright, who conducts a restaurant at 707 Depot avenue this city. In her bill for divorce, Mrs. Wright charges that they were married July 24, 1925 and that shortly afterward, her husband began the excessive use of intoxicating liquor and has practiced habitual drunkenness as well as extreme and repeated cruelty.

The injunction was issued by Judge Harry Edwards yesterday and served upon Wright at the court house, in which he is restrained from selling or disposing of any of the property owned either jointly by himself and his wife or his wife alone, which he is said to have threatened to do.

DOG SAVES MASTER.

Noblesville, Ind.—Another instance of the love of a dog for his master is related here. Walter Trietsche, 45, was gored in the chest by a cow. The family dog, hearing the trouble, rushed to the field and grabbed the animal by the nose and held long enough to allow Trietsche to escape. The dog then helped its master get home.

THINK MISSING PLANE WAS ROBBED OF $75,000 AFTER
IT CRASHED; WRECK BURNEDPlane, Missing Since
Jan. 10, Had Valuable Cargo

Reno, Nev., March 15—(UP)—Stimulated by reports that a $75,000 robbery had been committed, 300 men were pressed into service in a renewed search for Maury Graham, missing airplane pilot.

Graham was lost Jan. 10, while flying between Las Vegas, Nev., and Salt Lake City, Utah.

Today's renewed hunt for the aviator got under way after authorities expressed belief that the plane carried $75,000 in currency and nearly $500,000 in securities and that it had been robbed after the crash.

Charles F. Dutton, postal inspector of Salt Lake City, is at the head of the search and has stationed the men under his command all along the route from Las Vegas to Salt Lake.

Other postal authorities are assisting him in the search while the noted aviatrix, Juanita Burns, whose sharp eyes found a missing Western Air Express plane several days ago, is riding the sky in an attempt to sight the wreckage of the plane.

Chief of Police Percy Nash of Las Vegas has thrown his force into the search while other police forces all along the route are cooperating.

The new search is a final effort on the part of postal authorities to find the missing plane. The missing mail is valued at more than $500,000.

Belief was expressed by those searching for Graham that the ship did not land in the territory over which the search has been concentrated up until now and that if the plane did crash, thieves stole the mail and burned the wreckage.

Rice Sues Oil Co.
To Collect $5,000

Milton E. Rice of Elgin, owner of the Nachusa Tavern, through his attorney Clyde Smith of this city has started a suit in the sum of $5,000 in the Lee County Circuit Court against the Shell Petroleum Corporation, whose contractors are now engaged in the building of a new service station on the site of the Y. M. C. A. property on Third street and Galena avenue.

The petition sets forth that C. E. Dalton, acting as agent for the Shell Company on October 16, 1929, offered the plaintiff the sum of $5,000, contingent upon the purchase of the Y. M. C. A. property for a frontage for driving over the Nachusa hotel property. According to the provisions, the drive was not to be less than 15 feet in width nor more than 20 feet and was not to be constructed nearer than ten feet from the hotel building.

The defendant Shell Petroleum Corporation is alleged to have refused to pay the sum to the hotel owner, contending that the right of way is not worth the amount.

BRITAIN, JAPAN

FULL AGREEMENTGovernmental Approval Is
All That Is Needed
To Complete It

BY DEWITT MACKENZIE

Associated Press Staff Writer
London, Mar. 15—(AP)—A 100 per cent agreement among the United States, Great Britain and Japan was said to be an accomplished fact as far as the delegations are concerned.

Approval by the home government of the American-Japanese settlement, which closed yesterday was said to be the only thing remaining to enable these three delegations to write finish to their naval conference difficulties.

For days these delegations have been so close to agreement that there was said to have been little between them. A provisional American-Japanese agreement, achieved by Senator Reed and Ambassador Dor Matsudaira, is understood to have been the one thing needed to complete the circle.

Observers said that what this amounted to was that if this agreement is approved by the home governments, the United States, Great Britain and Japan will be in a position to sign a three power pact at any minute if this should seem desirable.

There remains the crisis surrounding France and Italy and the next move would seem to be up to these two.

The conference today was more or less marking time. Both Secretary Stimson and Prime Minister MacDonald were resting today after their week's arduous labors in trying to solve the crisis evolving about the French demands for a 724,000 ton navy.

INTERNATIONAL

Three Programs

New York, Mar. 15—(UP)—Three international radio broadcasts will be heard Sunday on the NBC and Columbia networks. Two of the programs will be from London and the third from Dresden.

Eight of Germany's best known operatic stars singing from the stage of the state opera house in Dresden, will be heard in a portion of Beethoven's "Fidelio" at 2 P. M. E. S. T. over the combined networks of WJZ and WEAF.

An hour before the opera program Ed L. Keen, vice president for Europe of the United Press, will discuss the religious situation in Russia over the combined networks of WJZ and WEAF. Keen has just returned to London from Moscow, where he wrote a series of articles on the Soviet campaign against the church. These articles were praised by newspaper editors throughout the country for their remarkably clear and impartial summary of the Russian situation.

Keen has represented the United Press in Europe since 1911 and has been in charge of coverage for all the European conferences beginning with the Versailles peace conference.

Columbia's international broadcast Sunday will be at 12:30 P. M. and will be featured by Frederic William Wile's description of the five-power naval conference.

Canada Will Likely

Ottawa, March 15—(AP)—Passage of the bill to prohibit clearances for craft carrying liquor to the United States seemed assured today after second reading in the House of Commons without a division.

After declaring that the Canadian government now acts as a connecting link between breweries and distilleries and United States rum-runners, Mr. King challenged members of Parliament to defeat the bill.

INCOME TAXES TO GOVERNMENT ARE TURNED IN TODAYTreasury Officials Refuse To Make Any Estimate of Amount

Washington, March 15—(AP)—Long lines of men and women in internal revenue collection offices, millions of citizens keeping their annual appointment with Uncle Sam, and Treasury officials anxiously scanning income tax returns for some indication of their effect upon the government's finances—these tell the story of March 15.

At midnight tonight returns for incomes of the calendar year 1929 must be in the hands of the government's agents, or in the mail, together with at least one-quarter of the amount of tax to be paid.

Last year, the amount paid on March 15 was a little more than six hundred million dollars, a sum that must be equalled today if the government's income is to equal its disbursements.

Collapse of the stock market late in the year and reduction of one per cent in the rate of taxation were regarded as sources of lessened returns but many officials held that the lessened payments caused by the market rashness would not be as low as had been feared.

The reflection of this loss they thought might be partially offset by increased tax payments from corporations, which were higher in 1929 than in 1928.

Officially, the Treasury refused to make calculations but expects it can report the totals next week.

ASTRONOMERS TO PICK NAME SOON
FOR NEW PLANET"Atlas" Seems Most Appropriate Member Of Staff Declares

New York, March 15—(AP)—Numerous suggestions for a name for the newly discovered ninth planet were before astronomers at Lowell Observatory at Flagstaff, Arizona, today.

Roger Lowell Putnam of Springfield, Mass., a member of the observatory's board of trustees, said that Atlas was the best suggestion that had come to him.

He also suggested the name of Constance, in honor of the widow of Dr. Percival Lowell, founder of the observatory. Dr. Lowell "discovered" the ninth planet 15 years ago mathematically through computations of the peculiar influence being exerted upon the planet Uranus.

Mrs. Lowell, whose home is in Boston, said she thought the planet should be named Percival in honor of her husband.

Dr. Harlow Shapley, director of the Harvard Observatory, through whom the announcement of the new planet was made, suggested that it be named Kronos, after the mythological father of the six principal Greek gods.

Final choice of a name rests with the staff of astronomers of Lowell Observatory.

The temperature on the new planet probably does not exceed minus 350 degrees Fahrenheit, it is believed by Professor John Q. Stewart of the Princeton astronomy department.

"Since the new planet is about forty-five times as far from the sun as the earth," he said, "it is receiving two thousand times less heat. Out at this exceedingly low temperature nitrogen would be frozen while oxygen freezes at a temperature a few degrees lower at 55 degrees absolute."

Millionth License
For Autos Issued

Springfield, Ill., March 15—(UP)—Passenger automobile registration in Illinois passed the one million mark today, according to William J. Starton, Secretary of State. Last year the sale of license plates did not reach the million mark until April 1.

Stratton stated the indications were that the total registration of passenger automobiles for 1930 would be more than 100,000 in excess of last year's figures. The total collection of the department to March 1 were $11,953,913.42, exceeding last year's figures for that period by more than two and one half million dollars.

Jermore, Kans., March 15—(UP)—Armed with two machine guns and led by bloodhounds, about 100 possesmen were reported closing in today on three bank bandits near here who yesterday shot their way to liberty near the Colorado line after robbing the Manter Bank of Manter, Kas.

The bandit automobile was abandoned here early today when the three men ran up a blind street. The abandoned car contained several pistols and rifles and sacks of silver taken from the bank.

Officers believed the men, tracked by the hounds, would be captured afoot in this town, or nearby. No persons were permitted to leave the town after the bandit car was found.

Hounds Sent By Air

Airplanes brought the hounds here from Hutchinson and from Dodge City.

Officers prepared for a possible gun battle as bloody as the one late yesterday when the gangsters blamed their way across southeastern Colorado, killing one peace officer and wounding three persons.

The bandit car sped into Jermore just as the armed men who had been guarding the roads had decided to go home.

The driver spied the barricade across the road and went into the ditch to circle it. The guards withheld their fire, fearing it might be officers pursuing the bandits. They followed it, however, when the occupants ignored their calls and saw the car dart up the blind street. Repeated calls bringing no answer, the possesmen riddled it with bullets as the three fled.

Two Killed when Auto Ran Into Street Car

Alton, Ill., March 15—(UP)—Two Alton men were killed last night when the automobile in which they were riding crashed head-on into a St. Louis-Alton interurban car at a downtown street intersection here.
Joseph P. Dean, 48, driver of the car, was dead when he was taken from the wreckage and Oran J. Waggoner, 42, died at a local hospital early today. Both were employees of the Shell Petroleum Corporation at the Roxana, Ill., plant, located in Madison county.

A CORRECTION.

An error appeared in the meat market department of the National Tea Co. ad in last evening's paper wherein it stated that Pork Loin Roast was 16c per lb. and Lean Pork Roast 22c a pound. SUPERVISORS PICK ROAD TO BE IMPROVED upon was that of traffic-bound gravel. The state specification call for an 18-foot roadway with a three-inch gravel surface with six foot dirt shoulders on both side, making a 30 foot width at an estimated cost of between $2,000 and $3,000 per mile. The annual cost of maintenance as outlined in the state specifications requires an expenditure of $1,000 the first year and $500 each year thereafter.

The resolution adopted by the board outlining the route of the highway contained the following further provisions:
Be it further resolved, that we, the County Board having thoroughly considered the following types of road surfaces, authorized by law, viz: earth, gravel, macadam, concrete, brick, concrete and macadam combined herein shall be of the type known as traffic-bound gravel, 18 feet in width, 3 inches in thickness with earth shoulders 6 feet in width on either side of the outside edge of the gravel making a total shoulder-to-shoulder width of 30 feet.

Be it further resolved that this Board appropriate $20,631.84 of the $44,946.70 from funds to be derived by the county allotment of the gas tax for engineering, including the preliminary surveys, plans, profiles and estimates and for construction of the section which shall be designated as section "M" and it is hereby requested that the aforesaid described section of highway be improved as a state aid road under 15-D road and bridge law, and that Fred G. Dimick, the County Clerk of said county of Lee is hereby directed to transmit two copies of this resolution to the State of Illinois, Department of Public Works and Buildings at Springfield, Ill., within ten days after date hereof.

To Start Survey.
County Superintendent Leake plans to start work at once on a survey to start from the Montavon corner north of Compton and proceeding west to a point west of Shaw station. It is expected that about four miles of the proposed highway will be constructed this year, the work probably to start about June 1. It will be necessary to retain a sufficient fund from the refund for the maintenance, engineering costs, plans and specifications which will amount to approximately $500 per mile. It is anticipated that the county will not undertake the building of this work this summer but will let the work by contract.

It is necessary to submit the above resolution to the Department of Public Work and Buildings for its approval. Upon the receipt of the approval of the plans, the result of the survey with the plans and specifications must next be submitted at Springfield. With their approval the county will be at liberty to advertise for bids on the work and let the contract, which must then be approved at Springfield before actual work may start.

Big Program of Road Building Is Assured

Washington, March 15—(AP)—Plans of states and counties to spend $250,000,000 more for highway construction during 1930 were cited by the Department of Agriculture today as evidence of cooperation with President Hoover in his request for enlarged construction programs to relieve unemployment.
Roadbuilding expenditures contemplated, the Department's Bureau of Public Roads reported, total $1,601,167,455, of which $937,500,455 will go for construction and maintenance of state highways, and $663,667,000 as estimated, for local roads and bridges.
The expenditures planned on improvement of state and local roads were given by sections. Ohio, Indiana, Illinois, Michigan and Wisconsin, estimated $303,696,000 would be spent for new roads.

POLICE CHIEF KILLED

Dubuque, Iowa, Mar. 15—(AP)—Two boys who gave their names as Ray McCormick, 17, and James Heberman, 16, confessed to Sheriff F. J. Kennedy today that they shot and killed Henry Hanfeldt, Marshall of Dyersville, in a running gun battle early today.

Dyersville, Iowa, March 15—(AP)—Henry Hanfeldt, Dyersville marshal, was shot to death at 7:20 o'clock this morning by a band of robbers who held up a filing station at Lexington, Iowa, eight miles north, shortly before. The robbers sped away in their automobile. Dubuque vigilants were called out.

Three Firemen Were Rescued In Detroit

Detroit, Mich., March 15—(UP)—Three firemen, injured seriously, were rescued spectacularly from a flame-enclosed roof and six were treated for burns and cuts at an emergency hospital as fire swept a five-story building here today with a property loss estimated at $750,000.

The three trapped men were Louis Pfaff, 28, LaVerne Bufton, 28, and James McGrath, 25. Pfaff, suffering from a fractured leg and internal injuries was in critical condition.

The three were trapped on the roof of a building adjoining the American Upholstering Company plant, heart of the fire, when the rear wall of the building collapsed. Over the din and roar they finally made their cries reach fellow firemen and after a half hour a path was cut to them through the flames. It was impossible to carry Pfaff down a ladder, so a make shift rope basket was arranged and in that he was lowered to the pavement.

Will Commit Schumm To Asylum For Life

St. Louis, March 15—(UP)—Alan Schumm, 18 year old University of Illinois freshman, who murdered his father and seriously wounded his mother in a "frenzy to kill," will probably spend the rest of his life in an asylum.

A commission of physicians appointed by the Circuit Court in a report, made public yesterday, declared the youth insane and "a menace to society," and recommended that he be confined to an institution for the care of the insane for the remainder of his life.

Schumm's trial is set for Monday. It is said that a jury will be impaneled, evidence to show that murder was committed presented, the report of the commission read to the jury, and that he will be found not guilty on the first-degree murder charge because of insanity, and will be committed to an institution.

GREEN HIDES TAGGED

Approximately $4,000 worth of green hides, consisting of 2,840 muskrat and 197 mink pelts, have been tagged and are being held upon the orders of State Conservation Inspectors Henry Keister of this city, Delair of Rock Falls and Crook of Prophetstown in Sterling. The hides were found in the Chapman brothers junk yard several days ago and were tagged by the conservation inspectors.

The disposition of the large cache of green hides will probably be known within a few days. The local officers are now awaiting word from the office of Ralph Bradford, chief of the department of conservation at Springfield who has conferred with Attorney General Oscar Carlstrom. The Sterling junk dealers are charged with having possessed hides out of season.

Meeting Success In Campaign For Truck

C. F. Brubaker, who is in Dixon and vicinity in the interests of a community fire truck to be used exclusively in fighting fires in the neighborhood, is meeting with fine success he reported today, and the outlook for the purchase of the truck, to be maintained by the city and manned by the Dixon fire department is better than it has been at any time. It is being pointed out to farmers and farm-owners that most cities exact a charge of from $100 up for exact a charge of from $100 up for calls into the country which are answered by the city departments and the purchase of a community truck by the people of this community will provide free service to all contributors. The need of such a truck was demonstrated yesterday when the Dixon firemen were called to the Sugar Grove church, making the run to the church and back in sixteen minutes.

New Denaturant For Alcohol Developed

Washington, March 15—(AP)—The Prohibition Bureau is working out a new petroleum denaturant for alcohol, which it expects to put into use, if remaining experiments prove successful.

The denaturant, the bureau has determined, is harmless, of highly disagreeable odor and taste, and can not be removed from the alcohol. It remains to be determined whether it will adversely affect the efficiency of the denatured alcohol for the many uses to which it is put.

W. V. Linder, chief of the technical division, has been in charge of the experiments and describes the new denaturant as a petroleum or naphtha distillate.

Its greatest advantage he says is that it cannot be separated from the alcohol.

DOMESTIC SONG

LIKE to walk among my shining rooms
Tripping from window-seat to stairs.
Up and down the halls and back again
Dusting the table-tops and lacquered chairs.

Here to stoop and knead a crumpled pillow.
There to bend and smooth a rug in place;

All the time my little Dutch clock ticking
With its busy hands and friendly face.

When dusk approaches with its purple vesture
I like to tiptoe through the shadowed nooks

Lighting lamps and drawing close the shutters,
Peeping into leaves of cherished books;

Here to stoop and fill a vase of flowers,
There to pause and hear a song afloat.

All the while my heart in quiet rapture
Beating time to each domestic note.

—Anne Harley.

Pleasant Meeting of Palmyra Mutual Aid

Thirty members of the Palmyra Mutual Aid Society were delightfully entertained at the home of Mrs. Chas. Lawton Wednesday, March 12, the usual picnic dinner being served at noon. Two of the above mentioned members joined the society at this meeting. Carnations formed the lovely bouquet for the dinner table. The day was spent sewing carpet bags.

The meeting was called to order by the president, with all singing, "I Love to Tell the Story," followed by everyone repeating the Lord's prayer. The secretary and treasurer's reports were read and approved. A letter from the Tennessee Mission was read, giving thanks to the aid for the Christmas box. It was decided by the society to hold a bake sale in the future.

Four generations were represented at this meeting—Mrs. John Mensch, Mrs. Mary Alter, Mrs. Naomi LeFevre and daughter, Elaine Shirley. Mrs. Elsie Swartz furnished the entertainment for the afternoon; Mrs. Mamie Williams winning first prize in the first game and Miss Beth Buhler received the first prize for the second game.

Everyone departed for their homes late in the afternoon after a happy day, and planned to meet again in two weeks. Meeting place to be announced later.

St. James Aid In Pleasant Meeting

The St. James Aid Society held their March meeting at the home of Mrs. Pat Duffy, 907 Third street, Dixon, with Mrs. Ralph Lehman and Mrs. Elizabeth Missman assisting hostesses.

The forenoon was spent in sewing on the quilts the society is making. At noon the hostesses served a delicious picnic dinner—chicken and noodles being the main dishes. At 2 o'clock the president called the meeting to order, reading ten verses from the first chapter of Mark. There were no minutes of last meeting read as the secretary was absent. Cards of thanks were read for flowers sent by the society.

Two contests were enjoyed. Lulu Patterson and Manda Green conducted these. The meeting was closed by all repeating the Lord's Prayer. The April meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. C. C. Wilhelm of Crawford avenue, Dixon. Mrs. Breimer, Mrs. Lehman and Mrs. Edith Botha are the names drawn on the program for the April meeting. All departed for their homes with happy memories of the enjoyable day spent at the Duffy home.

Frosting

2 cups sugar
1 cup water
2 egg whites, beaten
1 teaspoon vanilla

1 cup diced marshmallows
1-2 cup shredded, blanched almonds

Boil the sugar and water, without stirring, until a thread forms when a portion is slowly poured from a spoon. Pour into the egg whites and beat until light and fluffy. Add the rest of the ingredients.

Spread one of the layers of yellow cake with the frosting, top with the white layer and add more frosting and arrange the other yellow layer on top and spread with the remaining frosting.

This is a very effective cake when cut.

Always take off paper from cake as soon as cake is removed from the pan. The paper will stick if allowed to remain on the cake.

So. Dixon Community Club Met Wednesday

The members of the South Dixon Community club held an all-day meeting at the home of Mrs. George Travis Wednesday. At noon the hostess served a delicious roast beef dinner, with Mrs. Walter Ortiguesen and Mrs. Arnould Gottel assisting.

At 2 o'clock the president opened the meeting and a song by the club followed. As the secretary was absent Mrs. Roy Fischer called the roll.

There being no special business the chairman turned the meeting over to the program committee, Mrs. Fischer. A flower contest was enjoyed. Mrs. Harold McCleary winning first prize.

Two very interesting readings were given by Mrs. Dan Ortiguesen and Mrs. McCleary, which were enjoyed by all. Then followed a song by the "cooks," after which the remainder of the afternoon was spent in social chat. After a happy day the meeting closed in regular form, to meet in two weeks at the home of Mrs. Dan Ortiguesen.

Mr. Buzard, the Sunday school superintendent, then gave a very interesting talk on the growth and work of the Shepherd's class. The business session was closed by Mrs. Shaffer offering prayer. The class members were very fortunate in having with them Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Hall, who some time ago visited the Holy Land. Mr. Hall gave an interesting and educational talk on the Holy Land. Luncheon was then served by the hostesses, Mrs. Darrell Palmer and Mrs. George Howe.

Queen Visited British Public House Friday

London, March 15—(AP)—Great Britain's Queen knows considerable more of beer, bartenders and barrooms today than she has ever known before. Yesterday she visited a British public house.

Her comment upon leaving the bar-room was: "I have enjoyed myself tremendously. I think it is a splendid place, so cozy and homey."

The silence of astonishment and bashfulness fell upon the men in the crowded public house when Her Majesty, wearing a mauve gown, appeared behind the bar and looked around her with a friendly smile.

"The men doffed their hats but said nothing until an elderly man whispered to his neighbor: 'Ain't she lovely?' the compliment did not escape the Queen who laughingly acknowledged it and in so doing set the whole party at ease.

Queen Mary was not just sure how beer was drawn so the bartender pulled a lever and drew a glassful to show her, explaining how the beverage was pumped from a cellar. She also visited the cellars where she saw how beer is stored.

After leaving the inn Her Majesty accompanied Reverend Basil Jellicoe on a visit to some slum dwellings.

Were Together First Time In Eight Years

Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Mefford and Mrs. Orville Hackman of Virginia, Ill., spent the week end with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Etchison in Sterling. Mr. and Mrs. Mefford returned to their home Monday. Mrs. Etchison's two daughters came to make her a short visit before she returns to the hospital for an operation. Mrs. Hackman expects to remain a few days longer.

Mr. and Mrs. Etchison of 212 Fourteenth avenue entertained at dinner for their children and families. Those present from out of town were Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Mefford and Mrs. Orville Hackman of Virginia, Ill.; Mrs. Walter Iverson and children, Arthur and Grace, of Clinton, Ia.; Mr. and Mrs. William Maloney and children, Billy and Rosemary of Dixon; Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Miller and children, Geraldine and Harold of Rock Falls; Mr. and Mrs. Leroy McBride and son Robert and Harold McBride, Katherine and Kenneth Etchison of Sterling. This is the first time the seven sisters have been together in eight years.

A visitor to a Sunday school was asked to address a few remarks to the children. He took the familiar theme of the children who mocked Elsha on his journey to Bethel, how the young ones taunted the prophet and how they were punished when two bears came out of the woods and ate forty-two of them.

"And now, my children," said he, "what does this story show?"

"Please, sir," came from a little girl in the front row, "it shows how many children two bears can hold."

Miss Alice Zwilling Hostess Last Evening

Last evening Miss Alice Zwilling was hostess to a group of young friends who spent a delightful evening at the Zwilling home in cards and dancing. There were guests for three tables at bridge, and tempting refreshments were served afterward.

Miss Helen Bartholomew was awarded the favor for high honors for the girls; Warren Stout winning the same for the young gentlemen; Miss Mary Catherine Rorer won the second favor and Duane Kidd also won the second favor. After cards the young people concluded the evening by enjoying the refreshments and in dancing, all voting Miss Alice a delightful hostess.

Say Carol and Mme. Lupescu are Separated

Bucharest, Rumania, March 15—(AP)—Reports emanating from alleged reliable sources today said that Prince Carol, father of the infant King Michael, has separated from Mme. Helene Lupescu, Rumanian woman for whom he renounced his rights to the throne of his country.

There have been frequent reports of separation of Prince Carol and Mme. Lupescu, usually followed by their appearance in public again at Paris. In June, 1928, Princess Helen of Greece, his wife and mother of his boy, divorced him.

His affairs of heart brought him into disfavor in Rumania and led to his exile.

At various times he has been mentioned as plotting to return.

March Birthstones Bring Luck From Mars

By PAULINE

"Who in this world of ours has eyes
In Aries opens shall be wise
If always on his hand there lies
—a bloodstone."

HE bloodstone, symbol of courage, which is the popular birthstone for the month of March, is also the gem belonging to the fiery cardinal sign of the zodiac Aries, which dominates those persons born between March 22nd and April 21st, or whose horoscopes show this sign to have been in the ascendant at the hour of their birth.

This sign is ruled by the so-called "warlike" planet Mars, and its symbol is the Ram. Aries people are very fearless, as a rule, and go after what they want with a gusto based on their own utter confidence in victory. Their tactics in overcoming obstacles have been likened to those of charging cavalry, sweeping all before them, but, like cavalry, if they fail in their first attempt, they are apt to be distinctly confused. Defeat in one enterprise does not necessarily daunt them, though; they merely switch to new ground with a fresh burst of enthusiasm.

Since self-confidence plays such an important part in the achievement of success, Aries people are apt to be successful in life—unless they allow themselves to become too openly aggressive, self-willed and proud. To counteract this tendency they should by all means wear their natal gem, the bloodstone, as a talisman; for, according to ancient lore, it is supposed to exert a calming influence upon the Aries-born, dispelling anger and discord, and generally tempering the hot vibrations constantly depending upon them from the planet Mars.

The clever and aggressive Blamark, who so successfully directed Germany's affairs for a number of years, had the sun in Aries at his birth, and it is safe to say that this sign of the zodiac also figures prominently in Mussolini's horoscope. On the other hand, we have the example of such charming and amiable ladies as Mary Pickford and Constance Talmadge, who were also born when the sun was in the house of Aries.

The alternate birthstone for the month of March is the aquamarine, which in olden times was worn as a mascot to ensure a happy marriage, and which even today is among the stones chiefly favored for wedding gift-jewelry. Curiously enough, the flower for the gemmy month of March is the modest violet.

THE PRICE OF THE PAST.

It is characteristic of Americans to look ahead. Sometimes the past seems too uneventful and dull to look back on, and sometimes it seems too harsh and brutal; either way, what lies ahead is generally more attractive.

But the past can hardly be ignored. It hangs over us, with its phantoms and its shadows. To turn back and look at it is to understand ourselves better. It is our heritage. It deserves, not monuments, but much study.

The March Journal of the National Education Association quotes an extract from the diary of a woman who made the fabulous old trip to Oregon by covered wagon away back in 1847. It is worth looking at. Read the following paragraphs, taken from the woman's entry of Nov. 18, 1847, and see what you think:

"My husband is sick. It rains and snows. We start this morning around the falls with our wagon. We have five miles to go. I carry my babe and lead, or rather carry, another through the snow, mud and water almost to my knees. "It is the worst road that a team could possibly travel. I went ahead with my children and I was afraid to look behind me for fear of seeing the wagons turn over into the mud and water with everything in them. My children gave out with cold and fatigue and could not travel and the boys had to unhitch the oxen and bring them and carry the children on to camp."

"I was so cold and numb that I could not tell by the feeling that I had any feet at all. We started this morning at sunrise and did not get to camp until after dark, and there was not one dry thread on one of us—not even my babe."

"I had carried my babe and I was so fatigued I could hardly speak or step. When I got here I found my husband lying in Welch's wagon, very sick. He had brought Mrs. Polk down the day before and was taken sick here. We had to stay up all night tonight for our wagons are left half way back. I have not told half we suffered. I am not adequate to the task."

"Here were some hundreds camped, waiting for the boats to come and take them down the Columbia to Vancouver or Portland or Oregon City."

There, if you please, is the past—the American past. The hardship, the soul-sickness, the utter weariness, discouragement and misery that shine through the paragraphs of that pioneer woman's diary; what were they but part of the price that was paid for all that we have today? We are not our own—not entirely. We were bought by the past; bought by the unsung heroes and heroines who suffered and endured more than we shall ever be called on to suffer and endure in order that we might have what we have.

You cannot understand your nation unless you comprehend that fact. Back of everything that is thought and done today there stand those shadowy figures of the pioneers, straining forward through incredible hardship in the dim hope that somehow the future could be made better than the past. They have done, now, and the responsibility is ours. Who can read that Oregon's woman's diary without vowing to do what he can, be it little or great, to bring that old dream a bit nearer to realization?

CHIEF OFFICER MANNING AGAIN.

Our old friend Harry Manning, chief officer of the liner America, seems to be at it once more.

The heroism displayed by this young seaman and his commander, Captain George S. Fried, in connection with the relief of the steamer Antiope is still bright in the public memory. Now Manning has distinguished himself again—this time by taking a lifeboat across stormy waves to take from a freight steamer an officer whose presence in America was made necessary by the critical illness of his daughter.

Captain Fried and Officer Manning almost seem to specialize in this sort of thing. They prove that modern seamen are quite as capable and brave as the seamen of the old sailing-ship days. The American merchant marine is the richer for the presence of their names on its roster.

What's become of the man who used to read classics from the five-foot shelf riding to work each morning?

"The first 100 yards are the hardest," said the community committee during clean-up week.

We'll wager President Hoover would be willing to swap some of his fisherman's luck for Cal Coolidge's kind.

"I am broke," said Dr. Cook as he left the Kansas penitentiary recently. The trouble is he'll have a hard time convincing anybody.

The Prince of Wales shot an elephant in Africa. Had he ridden the animal without falling, that would have been news.

(READ THE STORY, THEN COLOR THE PICTURE)

The Tynmites all gathered round, quite comfortable on the ground and listened to the Travel Man as he told of his trip. They were amazed to hear how he had traveled land and traveled sea. He told them of a time when storms had wrecked a great big ship.

"But everyone was saved," he said. "The kindly captain used his head and we got off in lifeboats and were rescued, safe and sound. Course wrecks are few and far between and for the ocean I am keen. I always get a great big thrill when seaward I am bound."

"On any great big ship you'll find real fun and sports of every kind. A ship is like a big hotel and everything is great. To watch a steamer leave the shore and know you're on your way once more is fine. I'll soon take such a trip and I can hardly wait."

"Oh, gee," cried Clowny. "I'm sure we would like to travel out to sea on one of those big steamers. It would be a wondrous thrill. But there is one thing that we know. There is no way that we can go."

The man then said, "Why, I could take you all. I think I will. "If you are willing to start out with me and travel round about, get ready right away and we will hop into my car. I'll drive you to a great big ship on which we all will take our trip. It won't take long to get there 'cause it isn't very far."

Of course the Tynmites jumped for joy 'cause each one was a happy boy. They bid the bathing man good bye and joined their travel friend. Wee Scouty shouted, "Here we come," and as the car began to hum, they hopped aboard and wondered where their trip was going to end.

Dude Ranchers To Be Branded

Billings, Mont.—(UP)—Fair dude ranchers—to be worthy of such an appellation—must be branded hereafter even as calves are labelled with the mark of their owner.

This is the ruling of the Dude Ranchers' association which has ordered that members of the fair sex who frolic on dude ranches of Montana and Wyoming must carry away with them the insignia of their ranch imprinted on their bare backs.

The branding will differ from the cattle branding only in method; whereas a hot iron brands the animals, the hot sun will brand the women. The fair vacationists will stretch out on the ground on a summer's day to obtain the accustomed suntan. On their backs will be adhesive tape which, when removed at the end of the holiday, will leave the brand of the ranch white and clear in a setting of dark brown.

Bowling News

BY EDW. WORLEY

In the A League this week the Chic Motor Club in quest of more honors, decidedly excelled the Quality Cleaners, in the art of pin mauling. The result being three more victories for the Chic Motors, bringing their record total up to 26 consecutive victories. Walter Falstrom aroused suspicion as to who he really was, when he cracked up 633 pins for his three game series, and also added more distinction to his name by rolling a 297 game, the last grueling encounter with the Cleaners. He had, as others have had, a chance to beat high single game but failed to collect all three necessary strikes the last frame, falling short three pins. This gives the Motor Club a twelve game lead. The Chic Motors' 2659 series was best for the week. Sterling being second with 2676.

The Golf Shop squad exhibited all the merits required of a bowling team Wednesday night when they enlisted the services of Pete Moerschbacher, who helped considerably with 568 to administer two defeats to the Killian Giants of Sterling. Killians, who fearing a shortage of necessary wins to keep them in second place, were advised by Capt. "Hink" to get going. This they did by shipping 1000 pins into the pit the last game. Hink and Bauer contributing on a large scale with 223 apiece.

Considering the time, place, and participants involved, the spectators Thursday evening witnessed just another of these triple defeats continually presented to the Dixon Implemets; who care not who their opponents may be, but bowl them anyway for the purpose of exercising their weak points.

The Good Eats Shop turned out to be the lucky squad this week. Bill Hodson turned professional and tipped the maples for 214 the first game and despite a sudden slacking up pulled a 567 count as high for the evening.

In the B League this week the Walnut Grove boys succeeded in letting two slip of their grasp, but took the first by 119 pins. Bill Long rolled a 219 game, which existed as high for the evening. He also decided to share additional honors by rolling 563 for his series. By winning two Shawger's crew have a firm hold on second position and the Walnut Grove Products continue to hold 3rd place.

Cover's Coffee Shop continued to roll as usual this week but changed places by winning two from the Underworlds who have a strong hold on 1st place, leading by 10 games. Fanningman clinched high single game honor with 224, which with Heckman's total of 241 contributed the major share of pins for the winners.

The Maple Knockers of Sterling initiated themselves in the B League this week by trouncing Ashton three straight games. Hackett of Sterling received all honors for the evening by bowling a nice 331 game, and collecting 558 pins for his three game series. Ashton thereby remains in fourth place, with Cover's Coffee Shop a close rival.

"Mother Hubbard" Looks On

Some one probably smacked a beautiful double, reminding Connie Mack and Bing Miller (1) of a similar hit from Bing's bat that won a world's championship for the A's last fall. The scene is the Athletics' Fort Myers, Fla., training camp. Roger Cramer (2), hard-hitting rookie infielder, figures extensively in Connie's plans, as does Jim Keesey (3), first baseman, who should prove a capable understudy to Jimmy Fox.

SIXTEEN TEAMS IN
SECTIONAL FINALS
PLAY OFF TONIGHTFreeport Is Eliminated At Rock Island By Fast
Abingdon Five

Chicago, March 15.—(AP)—Sixteen fighting Illinois high school basketball teams, in trial by combat, tonight will strive for sectional championships and the privilege of competing for the state title at the University of Illinois next week.

The identity of 14 teams was determined in semi-final contests last night, only the Salem meeting having failed to progress to the championship stage. Salem teams still in the running were to play off their semi-finals today, with the finals to follow at night.

Favorites for the most part, made their way through to the finals, but two of them, Freeport and Quincy, were unexpectedly upset. Abingdon broke out with a last minute rally that permitted it to eliminate Freeport, 24 to 23, at Rock Island, while Quincy failed to even get started against an inspired Beardstown five at Springfield, and was beaten by 35 to 24.

The Peoria Manual-Canton game at Peoria, forecast as a red hot struggle, was even more than that. They battled through three overtime periods before Manual was able to gain a 12 to 11 victory, and qualify to meet Seneca in the finals tonight. Seneca became a finalist by a 16 to 13 victory over a stubborn Morris team.

Chicago's hope of having a team in the final at Champaign was wrecked by Wheaton high, which rallied in the second half to defeat Harrison Tech. 25 to 18. Harrison started well but its defense blew up in the last two periods and Wheaton edged in under the wire. Wheaton will meet Waterman, 16 to 13 victor over Elgin last night.

Bloomington high also rallied in the final half to eliminate Bloom of Chicago Heights, 22 to 20, and qualify to play Ogden in the final. Ogden found Monticello a stubborn foe, but managed to make off with a 28 to 23 victory at Danville.

A pair of high-scoring fives—Carbondale, conqueror of Johnston City, and Mt. Vernon—will play for the Herrin title.

Carbondale stepped out to a 33 to 12 triumph over DuQuoin, while Mt. Vernon was just as impressive in a 43 to 18 victory over Buncombe. Atwood's big team will clash with Hillsboro for the right to represent the Pana section at Champaign. The tall boys thumped Kimmunity, 42 to 10.

Earl Brown, Honored

Earl F. Brown of Morrison, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Brown of this place was honored Saturday in Morrison for his vigilance which probably saved a fast train the "Corn King" from being wrecked. The following will be read with interest by his relatives and friends in this community.

Earl Brown was born here and grew to young manhood at this place and is now night agent at the C. & N. W. Ry. at Morrison, Ill. January 27, train No. 11, known as the "Corn King," a fast train, stopped at Morrison. As the train was pulling out of the station and as Earl was about to go into the depot he noticed that under one of the cars a box was blazing. The train had gained too much headway to signal it so he at once stepped into the office, called the trainmaster and told him what he had seen. The time of the train from Morrison to Clinton is 19 minutes. Before it reached the Bluff Tower the train dispatcher had called the tower operator and he signaled the train to stop. When the train stopped the journal was broken and the car derailed. The assistant construction man, who inspected the car said it could not have gone two hundred feet further without a crash. Naturally no one can tell how much damage and how many lives may have been lost if such a wreck had occurred.

In recognition of Earl's promptness the officials of the road gave a dinner to honor him. They had presented the official's from the Superintendent of the Galena division to the track foreman, Jesse Johnson, another Franklin

BRITISHER GIVEN FIFTEEN DAYS TO MAKE SPEED MARK

His 24-Cylinder Auto Must Be Broken In Before Effort

By MORRIS DE HAVEN TRACY (United Press Staff Correspondent) Daytona Beach, Fla., March 15.—(UP)—Today marked the official opening of the 15-day period set for the assault by Kaye Don of England upon the world's automobile speed record of 230 miles per hour.

But rain, conditions of the course and lack of preliminary breaking in of Don's 31-foot, 4000-horsepower Juggernaut probably will postpone until mid-week any serious attempt at record smashing.

It was doubtful today that Don would as much as take his car, christened yesterday the "Silver Bullet," to the beach this afternoon. The tidal action under the prevailing winds of the last few days has kneaded the beach in spots into a lumpy, rolling surface, instead of the hard, level one necessary for such tremendous speeds as Don expects to attain.

CAR NEVER RUN
The car never has run under its own power. Its two motors, each a 12 cylinder affair developing 2000 horse-power apiece, are in the same condition as any other motors which never have been broken in. A period of preliminary running at reduced speeds will be required before Don can seriously hope to click off a mile in 15 seconds which is, with the fraction left out, what he must do to set a new record.

The general belief here was that it would be a week before Don would literally take his life in his hands and try to ride his motor-propelled projectile faster than any human being ever has travelled on land.

Trappings Ready
However, the official trappings for the trials are in order for Don to make his attempt whenever he sees fit. The electrical timing device which splits miles into fractions of one thousandths has been assembled. To insure accuracy the timing system is installed in duplicate. It is entirely mechanical, the human element entering at no time and the machines turning out the figures with a complete record for future reference of the processes they went through while arriving at the result.

Policing of the course has been turned over to the local company of the National Guard and to local police. When the trials are on no one will be allowed nearer the beach than 12 feet back of the edge of the embankment which overhangs it. Remembering the tragedy of last year when Lee Bible, driving the big American-built Triplex, lost control of his car for a reason which never will be known and killed himself and a photographer, drastic precautions to insure safety will be taken.

But Kaye Don, the driver, must take his own chances.

Polish Cabinet Has Tendered Resignation

Warsaw, March 15.—(UP)—The Polish cabinet resigned today, following a vote of non-confidence in Colonel Alexander Pryster, minister of Labor, by the lower house of Parliament yesterday.

Premier Kazimierz Bartel presented the government's collective resignation to President Ignacy Moscicki in accordance with his promise to stand by the Labor Minister.

The non-confidence motion was sponsored by the Socialists, and was adopted despite the Premier's declaration that this action would be followed by withdrawal of the entire cabinet.

It was believed Bartel would be asked to form a new government, replacing Pryster with a cabinet officer more acceptable to the Sejm.

CLASSY FIELD OF ATHLETES READY FOR ILLINI MEET

Number of Champions To Face Strong Foes In Illinois Relays

BY BERT DEMBY

United Press Staff, Correspondent Champaign, Ill., March 15.—(UP)—Out of the east, middle west, and southwest came today some 900 athletes, comprising as classy a field as ever entered the event, to compete in the Illinois relays, the most important of the indoor track and field meets.

So exceptional was the entry list that observers predicted that before the event is over several of the present champions will have been dethroned and new records established in many events.

The one outstanding man who appears certain to repeat is Barney Berlinger, Pennsylvania's great all-around man who last year set an Illinois record by scoring 6,070 points out of a possible 7,000 to win the all-around championship.

But contrasting to Berlinger's chance of repeating is the opportunity offered to George Simpson, the great Ohio State sprinter. Simpson must face such men as Eddie Toland, the Michigan Negro, Meier of Iowa State and Haas of Minnesota.

In the hurdles Dick Rockaway of Ohio State, one of the country's best last year, will be facing such men as Hayden, Chicago; Lamson, Nebraska; Eager, Iowa State, and Sentman of Illinois.

The pole vault figures to be a three-cornered battle between Tom Warner, Northwestern; Henry Canby, Iowa; and Verne McDermont of Illinois.

Orval Martin, the great Purdue middle distance man, figures to win in his events as does Edward Gordon of Iowa who can cover approximately 24 feet in the broad jump.

Bert Nelson of Butler took a commanding position in the high jump for the year when he leaped six feet, six and three-fourths inches recently. He is favored to win here.

The same favoritism applies to Jim Bausch of Kansas, who put the shot 48 feet, 7 inches last week-end to win the Big Six event. Bausch will be opposed, however, by men like Behr of Wisconsin, Poorman of Michigan; Weaver of Chicago; and Vossler of Miami, all of whom are capable of winning.

In the high hurdle shuttle relay—one of the seven events on the relay program—Nebraska is expected to put in a strong bid to retain the title it won last year.

Chicago—A Philadelphia insurance company has settled its account for the death of Frank Gusenberg. Moran gangster slain a year ago St. Valentine's Day. It had paid $10,000 on a policy claim but Mrs. Lucille Gusenberg, the widow, demanding $10,000 more under a double indemnity clause, sued. The money was paid and the suit withdrawn, the settlement agreeing that the death was "accidental."

The theme for this Sunday's sermon will be: "God Hath Called Us Unto Holiness." 1 Thessalonians 4:1-7. Luther has been accused of teaching "Go ahead and sin boldly; just so you believe boldly also." "On basis of Scriptures Luther taught 'Holiness Unto the Lord.' This we also find expressed in the Augsburg Confession the symbols of the Lutheran Churches of the World, the year of 1930 being the 400th anniversary of the Augsburg Confession. These thoughts and others will be brought out in a simple and plain way in Sunday's sermon.

Our second Lenten service last Wednesday was extraordinarily well attended. The church was filled. We are happy to have in our services folk of other denominations. The church doors are open at all the services to outsiders. More books will be provided for at next service. The beautiful illuminated cross over the doorway of the church and which is the gift of Mr. Ed Nicklaus has drawn considerable comment and attention.

The next Lenten service Wednesday evening March 19th. Last Wednesday's service is another proof that people are not looking for the sensational but that they are hungry for the Word of God in all its simplicity and power. They want worship, nothing more but nothing less. Attend all the Lenten services.

Daily Health Talk

KEEPING THE BABY WELL

By Dr. J. H. M. Knox, Baltimore, Md.

(This series of articles is prepared under the direction of the Gorgas Memorial Institute, which is organized to perpetuate the life work of the late Major-General Gorgas in preventing unnecessary illness. The headquarters of the Institute are at 1331 G Street, N. W., Washington, D. C.)

Digestive troubles and colds are two dangers from which babies should be safe-guarded. The best ways to build up a baby's resistance to disease are these:

1. Through regular medical supervision. Have your doctor see the baby at regular and frequent intervals. Remember, we are talking about the well baby. Don't wait until the baby is sick. Let the doctor advise you how to keep the well baby well. It pays better in every way.

2. Through proper feeding. Mother's milk is the right of every baby. At the end of six months, your doctor may advise mixed feedings, supplementing the mother's milk by one or more bottle feedings. Cow's milk when given to the baby should always be boiled one or two minutes before the feedings are prepared. By the time the baby is two or three months old, you can begin giving him a teaspoonful of orange juice every day, gradually increasing to three or four teaspoonfuls daily. You can begin giving from one-half to one teaspoonful of cod-liver oil at this time, also.

3. By care in bathing. The best time for the well baby's bath is in the morning before the second feeding. The bath water should have a temperature of 95 degrees at first, decreasing gradually to 90 degrees by the time a baby is a year old.

4. By letting the baby have plenty of sunshine and fresh air.

5. By seeing that the baby has plenty of sleep in a quiet place. A baby should have a regular bedtime and nap-time, and should sleep in a well ventilated room, but protected from drafts.

6. By dressing the baby according to the weather. The baby's feet should always be kept warm. The extra clothing put on when the baby is taken out should be determined by the temperature, not by the season.

Seventh and very important. By keeping the well baby away from people who are sick. Neither the well nor the sick baby should be exposed to other people's colds, or to other children's illnesses, because these diseases are especially dangerous to young babies.

OBITUARY

MRS. ROSE CARLSON
(Contributed)

DeKalb—Private funeral services were held Tuesday afternoon at the late home for Mrs. Rose Carlson, whose sudden death occurred early Sunday morning at Rochester, Minn., where she had gone for treatment at the Mayo clinic.

The services were conducted by Rev. J. C. Spencer, pastor of the Methodist Episcopal church and internment was in Fairview cemetery. The large number of floral tributes bespoke the high regards in which this lovely woman was held by friends in Dixon, Sterling and DeKalb.

Rose Absher was born on November 4, 1888, at Crab Orchard, near Marion, Ill., the daughter of C. W. and Sarah Absher. In 1915 she was united in marriage to H. Carlson of DeKalb and resided in this community for approximately twenty years where for some time she was connected with the Bell restaurant.

Later she removed to Dixon where she purchased the Manhattan cafe for three years. She later disposed of her holdings in Dixon and conducted the Happy Hat Shop in Sterling, which business she disposed of in May of last year. Following her retirement from active business life, she with her son Robert enjoyed a five months motor tour of the western states and returning, made their home in DeKalb.

Mrs. Carlson entered the Mayo brothers clinic at Rochester, Minn., about two weeks ago after having suffered from failing health for several weeks. She was thought to be improving when she suffered a sudden heart attack and died within a few hours. Up to her death she maintained her happy, unselfish and loving frame of mind, encouraging others who were patients at the clinic. Hers was a disposition of self-denial, charitable in the extreme and always thoughtful of those about her.

She is survived by her son, Robert L. of Chicago, one sister and one brother, Mrs. Matt Anderson of Carverville, Mason Absher of Miami, Fla. One sister, Mrs. George Poole and one brother, James Absher preceded her in death. She is also survived by several nieces and nephews among whom are Mr. and Mrs. Audie Poole of DeKalb, Mr. and Mrs. Claude Poole of Chicago, one great nephew, Bobbie Poole and numerous other relatives and sorrowing friends.

NOT satisfied with comparing the color of the smudge on the glass with Doris's lipstick, he bent close to sniff the mirrored sample, then held the little tube to his nose.

"It's the same, chief. That print on the mirror was made by Doris Matthews!"

"Well, now we're getting somewhere!" Captain Strawn ejaculated. "Maybe," Dundee agreed, and they returned to the bedroom.

"Now, Mrs. Berkeley," he began, when he had resumed seat and notepaper. "Will you please tell me whether Doris was permitted to use lipstick while on duty?"

"Certainly not!" Mrs. Berkeley answered emphatically.

"And was Doris still in your room when you went down to dinner?"

"She considered for a moment, then brightened. 'No. I'd kept her longer than I expected, and just as I was nearly ready to go down Doris called on the house phone. We have an inter-comcommunicating system, you know, so that we can telephone to almost any room in the house, just by pushing little buttons—'

"Yes? So Doris went to assist Miss Berkeley?"

"Yes, immediately, before I left my room."

"And would Doris have returned to this room later for any reason?"

"Why, of course! To lay out my night things and turn down the covers."

"She could have attended to these duties as early as she pleased?"

"Why, certainly, since I had told her I would not need her to help me get ready for bed," Mrs. Berkeley answered, casting an uneasy glance at her husband.

"Now, Mrs. Berkeley, may I ask when you came up to bed?"

"Let me see. . . . Hmm." Natural color mingled with and mottled the heavy coating of rouge on her cheeks. "I'd say it was about 20 minutes to 12, wouldn't you, George?" she appealed to her husband.

He nodded, his lips tightening.

"On coming upstairs, Mrs. Berkeley, did you see anyone—hear anything?"

"Oh, no! Not a sound!" she assured him eagerly. "The house was quiet as the grave!" Then she uttered a little scream as she realized what word she had used. "Oh! I simply can't realize—"

"And you, Mr. Berkeley?" Dundee turned to his host.

"Not a sound! I went directly to my room, saying good night to my wife in the hall. My room occupies the northwest corner of the second floor."

"And did either of you hear anything later? Any footsteps?"

"No!" husband and wife answered in unison.

"The sound of the limousine returning?" Dundee persisted.

"And again they both answered 'No!'"

"Did you hear the car return before you went upstairs?"

"I didn't notice," Berkeley answered, and his wife: "Neither did I, but of course Arnold would have taken the car directly to the garage from the gates, not coming anywhere near the front of the house."

"And could not find it?"

"No. I was furious with Wickett for having disobeyed me. I gave it to him after—" she floundered and floundered, recalling the shameful scene which had ended in her slapping Gigg's face before her guests—"a few minutes after Mr. Crosby gave it to me, and told him to take it up to my rooms. That was when you were telephoning. He explained."

"You found that Doris had been in here to lay out your things and prepare the bed for the night?"

"Oh, yes. Everything was exactly as usual," she assured him eagerly.

"Mrs. Berkeley, I'll ask you again: was Doris Matthews in this room or in any of your three rooms when you came up to bed?"

"No! How dare you doubt my word?" she cried furiously.

DAILY LENTEN THOUGHT

BY REV. C. F. REISNER, D. D.
Pastor Broadway Temple, New York, Methodist Episcopal Church

"Take care, keep awake and pray," warned Jesus. (Mark 13:33—Moffat translation.)

Alertness alone brings growth; without it we have religious dwarfs and invalids. Christ, the Teacher, stands by to show us the way to size and real satisfaction.

But we must listen, look and act. The acorn's heart is so constructed that it finds and appropriates everything in the soil that will help build an oak. Weeds only pick up food that constructs rubbish. God created us in His image; we have the ability to select material that will make us like the Christ of the Ages.

It requires 50,000 roses gathered while dew still wets their petals to make one ounce of "Attar of Roses." Why do we tire so quickly when searching for sustaining and fragrant truths? Honey bees find supplies everywhere; if we meditate on God's goodness and "watch" we will find sweetening instead of souring experiences. Worry is atheistic, for it is the product of denying that the Great Ruler is looking after things.

Jesus came to show us what God is like; not a "sparrow falls" without His notice. He caressed little children, attended dinner parties, shed sorrowful tears, cured honest doubt, loved wobbly Peter, and died for everyone.

Then we can revive all our hope and out doubt. But we can do more; we can be a blessing full of happy cheer wherever we go. Lincoln insisted that he wanted it said of him that he supplanted a thorn with a rose wherever one would grow.

Some trees in South America only bloom when the wind blows. Frost spoils a turnip, but it sweetens a parsnip. It takes the tang of winter to put zestful energy into folks. Jesus went into the Garden, but that experience led to a triumphant Easter. We may follow Him all the way. (Copyright, 1930, NEA Service, Inc.)

TODAY IS THE ANNIVERSARY

MAINE'S STATEHOOD

On March 15, 1820, Maine became a state. Up to that time it was a possession of Massachusetts and under its jurisdiction.

The desire of Maine to separate from the mother state was indicated as early as 1783 when the Democratic inhabitants of that territory found it difficult to tolerate the rule of Federalist Massachusetts. During the War of 1812 a rupture seemed inevitable. For Maine, angered by the seizure of its land by the British, blamed the Bay State for failing to provide for adequate defenses.

But it remained for the Federal government to make the separation. Shortly after the admission of Missouri, Congress was confronted with the problem of preserving the balance of power in the Union. It was found necessary, for that reason, to admit Maine.

The only important subject of legislation in the state thus far had been that of prohibition. As early as 1858 a strict prohibitory law was passed and later incorporated into the Constitution. It has remained in force ever since. Maine also is considered a "barometer" during national elections. The saying "As Maine goes, so goes the nation," indicates its importance politically.

Hit Wife With Bowl

Chicago, Mar. 14 (UP)—The bridge game in which Mrs. Lila Gery Collyer held thirteen diamonds but bid six no-trump, had another development today.

Because of the bid she made, Mrs. Collyer said her husband hit her over the head with a glass bowl. She asked a divorce.

Today, police received a letter from Mrs. Charles C. Collyer of Mt. Carmel, Ill., asking them to find out if the husband, Edwin C. Collyer, is Mrs. Charles Collyer's son, whom she has not seen for ten years and with whom she desires to get in communication on "very important matters."

Police are searching for Collyer.
